

Continuous Penetration Testing & CASM

Get an attacker's view of your network.

Our Approach

Our Continuous Penetration Testing offerings help organizations discover, understand, and monitor their network attack surface. CPT breaks down a traditional point-in-time penetration test to an ongoing "discover and attack" process to reduce the time between vulnerability introduction and discovery.

Common Challenges

- Modern networks look different to an internal admin and an external attacker
- Most admins struggle to view their networks from an attacker's perspective
- Most companies struggle with outside risk visibility between security assessments
- Most networks change daily from an attacker's perspective, and new vulnerabilities and CVEs are released constantly
